L^p norms via geodesic beams

Yaiza Canzani
UNC Chapel Hill

May 18, 2020

In this talk, we discuss a geodesic beams approach for understanding eigenfunction concentration, and give applications to the study of the L^p norms of eigenfunctions for p larger than the critical exponent. In particular, we present quantitative improvements on the standard estimates which rely only on dynamical assumptions. This is joint work with J. Galkowski.