

OSD Tutorial 4 solution: state machines

August 28, 2017

This is shown in Figure 1. Notice that states represent web pages, and transitions represent the possible navigations from page to page. Nested states represent a group of pages that have a common action (logout in this case).

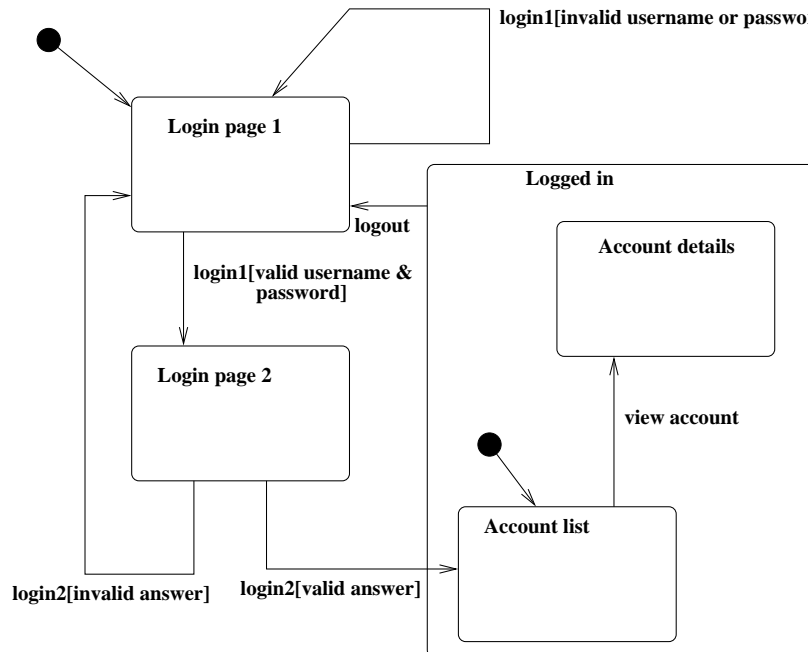

Figure 1: Bank website state machine

The transition to Account list could instead go to the boundary of Logged in.